REDAKSIONELE BELEID

Die doel van Communicatio is om oorspronklike navorsingsartikels, oorsigartikels en belangrike kongresreferate ter bevordering van die kommunikasiewetenskap in Suid-Afrika te publiseer. Artikels wat aan die vereistes soos hieronder gestel voldoen, word aan lede van die redaksionele komitee of ander vakkundiges vir keuring voorgelê. Slegs gekeurde artikels word gepubliseer.

REDAKSIONELE VEREISTES

Bydraes kan per e-pos gestuur word aan:

fouripj@unisa.ac.za. Benewens die e-pos weergawe moet die oorspronklike getikte manuskrip en twee duidelike kopieë voorgelê word. Tik slegs aan een kant van die papier, op A4-formaat, met dubbelspasiëring en breë kantlyne. Keep alle paragrawe in en vermy die afbreek van woorde aan die einde van 'n reël behalwe waar 'n koppelteken voorkom.

'n Disket van die artikel moet saam ingedien word, met 'n nota waarop die tipe woordverwerkingspakket asook die lêernaam geïdentifiseer word. Hieronder sal die artikel nie vir publikasie oorweeg word nie.

Bydraes mag in Engels of Afrikaans voorgelê word. Elke artikel moet voorafgegaan word deur 'n abstrak in Engels en Afrikaans (elkeen 'n maksimum van 200 woorde), wat die inhoud van die artikel feitlik en bondig moet weergee en geskik moet wees vir afsonderlike publikasie en indeksering. Bo en behalwe die abstrak moet Afrikaanse artikels ook van 'n meer volledige opsomming (500–1 000 woorde) in Engels vergesel wees vir inligting-hervinning deur internasionale abstraheringsagentskappe.

Die titel moet kort wees maar genoeg inligting bevat om bruikbaar te wees vir kodering, vir inligtingberging en -hervinning.

Die eerste bladsy moet die titel, die skrywer(s) se naam (name) en adres(se), die naam en adres van die skrywer aan wie verdere briefwisseling gestuur moet word, sowel as die abstrakte bevat. Die artikel moet op 'n nuwe bladsy begin word.

Geselekteerde artikels uit Unisa se vaktyskrifte word nou elektronies op Internet gepubliseer. Benewens bogenoemde vereistes, word outeurs ook versoek om in sowat 2–3 reëls die inhoud van die artikel bondig op te som en ook 6–7 sleutelwoorde te verstrek. Dit moet in 'n raam onderaan die artikel verskyn.

Verwysings: Die Harvard-verwysingsmetode word gebruik. Verwysings in die teks word aangedui deur die van(ne) van die skrywer(s), die jaar van publikasie en bladsynommer(s) tussen hakies, byvoorbeeld (Prince 1982:50). Wanneer verwys word na 'n publikasie in sy geheel, moet die bladsynommer(s) uitgelaat word.

Manuskripte moet vir publikasie voorgelê word aan: Die Redakteur: Communicatio, Departement Kommunikasiekunde, Universiteit van Suid-Afrika, Posbus 392, Unisa, 0003, Republiek van Suid-Afrika. Die sperdatums vir die twee jaarlikse uitgawes is onderskeidelik 1 April en 1 Oktober.

EDITORIAL POLICY

Communicatio's aim is to promote the science of communication by publishing original research articles, review articles and important conference papers. Articles which comply with the requirements set out below will be submitted for selection to the editorial committee or experts in the field. Only those which are deemed to be of a suitably high standard will be published.

EDITORIAL REQUIREMENTS

Contributions may be e-mailed to:

fouripj@unisa.ac.za. Apart from the e-mail version, the original typewritten manuscript plus two clear copies should be submitted. Type on A4 format on one side of the paper only, using double spacing with generous margins. Indent all paragraphs, and avoid breaking words at the end of a line, except where a hyphen occurs.

A disk of the article must be provided, together with a note identifying the type of word-processing package and the file name. Without a disk the article will not be considered for publication.

Contributions may be submitted in English or Afrikaans. Each article must be preceded by an abstract in both English and Afrikaans (maximum length of each: 200 words). The abstract should give the content of the article factually and concisely, and should be both suitable for separate publication and adequate for indexing. In addition to the abstracts, articles written in Afrikaans should carry an extended English summary (500–1 000 words) to facilitate information retrieval by international abstracting agencies.

The title must be short but sufficiently informative for use in title lists or in coding for information storage and retrieval.

The first page should contain the title of the article, the author's (authors') name(s), the name and address(es) of the author to whom correspondence should be addressed, and the abstracts. Start the article itself on a new page.

Selected articles from Unisa journals are now being published electronically on Internet. In addition to the above requirements, authors are therefore requested to provide a concise indication of the content, 2 to 3 lines in length, and 6 to 7 keywords for their article, both of these to be placed in a box at the end of the article.

References: The Harvard method should be used. References in the text are indicated by the surname(s) of the author(s), the year of publication and page number(s) in parentheses, for example (Prince 1982:50). When reference is made to an entire publication, the page number(s) should be omitted.

Manuscripts for publication should be submitted to: The Editor: Communicatio, Department of Communication, University of South Africa, P O Box 392, Unisa, 0003, Republic of South Africa. The deadline for the two annual publications is respectively 1 April and 1 October.
