

Information for Contributors

Editorial Policy

Perspectives in Education is a professional, peer-reviewed journal that encourages the submission of previously unpublished articles on contemporary educational issues. As a journal that represents a variety of cross-disciplinary interests, both theoretical and practical, it seeks to stimulate debate on a wide range of topics. PiE invites manuscripts employing innovative qualitative and quantitative methods and approaches including (but not limited to) ethnographic observation and interviewing, grounded theory, life history, case study, curriculum analysis and critique, policy studies, ethno-methodology, social and educational critique, phenomenology, deconstruction, and genealogy. Debates on epistemology, methodology or ethics, from a range of perspectives including post-positivism, interpretivism, constructivism, critical theory, feminism and post-modernism are also invited. PiE seeks to stimulate important dialogue and intellectual exchange on education and democratic transition with respect to schools, colleges, non-governmental organisations, universities and universities of technology in South Africa and beyond.

The journal is committed to the process of capacity building in the area of scholarly writing and publication among new writers. It aims to accelerate the development of capacity among black and women educationists in South Africa.

As the journal aims to make itself accessible to a wider reading community, it encourages authors to make their content accessible to a broad readership, including those who may not be familiar with the subject matter addressed. PiE challenges contributors to use innovative, provocative and creative ways of presenting and reporting their research.

Contributions in English, or any of the official South African languages, are welcome. In the case of an article in one of the official South African languages other than English, an English abstract of not more than 600 words must be provided.

As a rule not more than one article per year by any author/co-author is published.

Submission of articles

PiE invites submissions in the following categories:

Research articles. Contributors are encouraged to submit typewritten manuscripts of no more than 12–16 double spaced pages (5 000 words) including references, notes, and tables. The following are considered when evaluating the suitability of a manuscript for publication in this section of PiE:

- The manuscript offers new, original insights or interpretation and not merely a restatement of existing ideas and views.
- The manuscript makes a significant contribution to the field and extends the borders of educational debate.
- The manuscript is likely to arouse readers' interest and stimulate debate.
- The manuscript reflects sound scholarship and research design with appropriate, correctly interpreted references to other authors and works.
- The content of the manuscript is accessible to the broad readership of the education community, and not only specialists in the area addressed.

The latter part of the journal, which is generally not subject to the peer review process, allows for the submission of, inter alia, the following:

Reviews and review articles. PiE invites succinct, critical, evaluative reviews of professional books, texts, and other instructional resources including computer-software and video/audio-taped material. Reviews should provide a descriptive and evaluative summary and a brief discussion of the significance of the work in the context of current theory and practice. In addition to the conventional book review format, reviewers are encouraged to use alternative methods of representation, such as critically engaging the author in a dialogue on a published book. These manuscripts should comprise no more than 1 000 words.

Conversations about research practice. This will be a regular column in which new and experienced researchers engage in dialogue on critical issues in the research process, for example, power dynamics, ethics, authority and authenticity in field research. In this column we encourage developing writers to interrogate accomplished writers and theorists about their work. This section can also be used to document conversations and dialogues between researchers and the researched.

Brief reports and summaries. PiE invites short reports on any aspect of theory and practice in academia. We encourage manuscripts that either showcase preliminary findings of research in progress or focus on larger studies. Reports and summaries (of no more than 1 000 words) should be presented in a manner that will make the research accessible to our diverse readership.

Articles are considered for publication provided that:

- The work is original.
- The copyright is transferred to PiE and the author has secured all permissions for the reproduction of original or derived material from the copyright source.
- The work has not been published previously and is not under consideration for publication elsewhere (in selected cases, this condition may be waived).
- The author has secured the permission of all named co-authors, who have agreed on the order of the names for publication.
- The author subscribes to PiE (a subscription form is attached for your convenience).

The editor reserves the right to make editorial changes in any manuscript accepted for publication to enhance clarity or conformity with journal style. The review process takes between 3 to 5 months to complete. Authors will be informed of the editor's decision on receipt of all of the reviewers' reports.

Impact factor issues

Authors must cite as many of the relevant articles in PiE (at least three) that are germane to placing an article in PiE.

Language

Manuscripts should be written in English. Authors must ensure that the final version of their manuscript is edited by an accredited language practitioner. Furthermore, manuscripts accepted for publication should be accompanied by a signed declaration to that effect, including the name, address, and email address of the language practitioner. Failure to do so may result in the manuscript being withdrawn from the publication process.

Ethics

Authors should take great care to spell out the steps taken to facilitate ethical clearance, i.e. how they went about complying with all the ethical issues alluded to in their study/studies, either directly or indirectly, including informed consent and permission to report the findings. If, for example, permission was not obtained from all respondents or participants, the authors should carefully explain why this was not done.

General submission guidelines

Submit the manuscript on A4 white bond with 2.5 cm margins all round, as well as on CD/DVD or e-mail the file. The following should appear on a separate page: Name(s) of the author(s), title(s), and affiliation(s) (these should not be disclosed in the text); complete mailing address(es); e-mail address(es); telephone/fax numbers. An English abstract of not more than 200 words should be typed on a separate sheet, followed by up to 10 keywords that characterise the article.

Division of the text must be clear and logical into unnumbered sections with the different level headings clearly indicated. Tables and figures must be placed at the end of the article with their approximate positions in the text indicated. All photographs/figures must be clearly printed originals — no fill or grey shading may be used. Tables and figures should be numbered consecutively and be accompanied by a brief heading for tables or caption for figures. Each table/figure must be referred to in the text. Do not use footnotes. Use endnotes only (not more than five endnotes per article).

Submissions should be sent to: Perspectives in Education, Faculty of Education, University of Pretoria (Groenkloof Campus), Pretoria, 0002, South Africa, or e-mailed to perspect@postino.up.ac.za.

Procedure for manuscripts accepted for publication

Page fees of R150 per page submitted for the first 12 pages and R180 per page thereafter will be charged. Authors will be invoiced on acceptance of the article. Brief (6 lines) biographical statement(s) must be supplied for all author(s).

References

References are cited in the text by the author(s) name(s) and the year of publication in brackets (Harvard method), separated by a comma: e.g. (Brown, 2001). Page references in the text should follow a colon after the date: e.g. (Brown, 2001:69). If several articles by the same author and from the same year are cited, the letters a, b, c, etc. should be added after the year of publication: e.g. (Brown, 2001a). In works by three or more authors the surnames of all authors should be given in the first reference to such a work. In subsequent references to this work only the name of the first author is given, followed by the abbreviation et al.: e.g. (Ziv et al., 2005). For personal communications (oral or written) identify the person and indicate in brackets that it was a personal communication: e.g. (M Smith, pers. comm.).

List of References

Only sources cited in the text are listed, in alphabetical order. These should be presented as indicated in the following examples. Special attention should be paid to the required punctuation.

Journal articles:

Johnson DW & Johnson RT 2002. Gifted students illustrate co-operative learning. Educational Leadership, 50:60-61.

Books:

Van Zyl R & Thomas PP 2004. Recent advances in classroom research. New York: McGraw-Hill.

Chapters in books:

Dukzec S 2008. Gender issues. In D Hicks & J Brown (eds). Education for peace. London: Routledge.

Unpublished theses or dissertations:

Squelch J 2001. Teacher training for multicultural education in a multicultural society. MEd dissertation. Pretoria: University of South Africa.

Electronic references: Published under author's name:

Burbach H 2000. Violence and the public schools. Retrieved from <http://www.people.Virginia.EDU/~rkb3b/Hal/SchoolViolence.html> on 4 March 2001.

Website references: No author:

These references are not archival and therefore subject to change in any way and at any time. If it is essential to present them, they should be included in a numbered endnote and not in the reference list.