

INSTRUCTIONS TO AUTHORS

Editorial policy: All contributions will be critically reviewed by at least two referees. Copyright on all published material is vested in SATJ and such material, once accepted for publication in the Journal, may not be published elsewhere without the written permission of the editors. Opinions expressed in contributions are those of the authors and not necessarily endorsed by the Editors or the Editorial Consultants.

Presentation of manuscripts: All manuscripts can be submitted by emailing the article preferably as a word-processor version (if possible in MS-WORD) to satj@sun.ac.za as well as a hard copy mailed to our postal address (South African Theatre Journal, Drama Department, Private Bag X1, Matieland, 7602, South Africa) and accompanied by an electronic (word-processor) version, preferably in MS-WORD, on some kind of recording device (CD, DVD). Only manuscripts and recording devices accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope will be returned, if found unsuitable for use in SATJ. The typing must be double-spaced with ample margin, on one side of the paper only. Single quotation marks are used throughout. The first page should contain the full title, the name(s) and full address(es) of the author(s). Under no circumstances will an article be published under a pseudonym. This page must also contain a short abstract (200 words in English). The abstract should be both suitable for separate publication and adequate for indexing. Start the article itself on a new page.

Language: Articles will be accepted in ANY SOUTH AFRICAN LANGUAGE, but any article not in English must, in addition to the abstract referred to above, carry an extended English summary (500 – 1000 words) to facilitate information retrieval by international abstracting agencies.

References: The Harvard method should be used. References in the text are indicated by the surname(s) of the author(s), the year of publication and the page number(s) in parentheses, for example (Prince, 1982:50). When reference is made to an entire publication, the page number(s) should be omitted.

Notes: Numbers should be affixed as superscripts (without parentheses) to the right of any punctuation marks and the notes themselves should appear at the end of the text before the references.

References at the end of the manuscript: More details of sources should appear at the end of the manuscript (after the Notes, if any) under the caption References. The sources must be arranged alphabetically according to the authors' surnames. Please note the use of capital letters, punctuation marks and italics in the following examples:

BECKERMAN, B. 1979. Theatrical perception. Theatre Research International 4(3):179 – 194.

ELAM, Keir. 1980. The semiotics of theatre and drama. London: Methuen.

MARANDA, P. 1980. The dialectic of metaphor: an anthropological essay on hermeneutics. In: Suleiman, Susan R.; Crossman, Inge (Ess.) The reader in the text: essay in audience and interpretation. Princeton: Princeton University Press.

PLEASE NOTE: Authors are encouraged to submit illustrations with their articles, since the performing arts are inherently visual and lend themselves to illustration. All such material should be clearly labelled and captioned, photographs clear reproductions (JPEG-format, of postcard size or larger), and graphs or line drawings should be camera-ready master copies or scanned copies in JPEG-format.
